

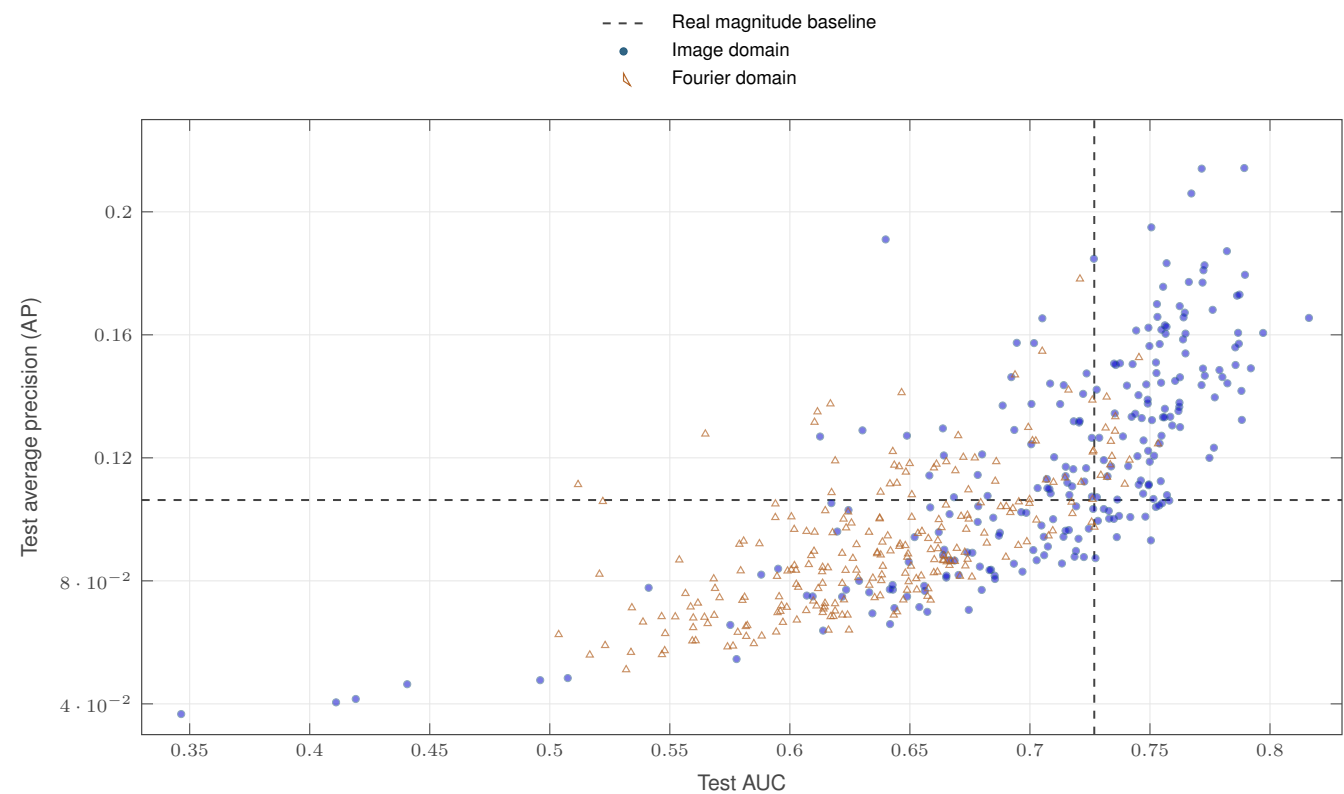

Figure 1: Joint distribution of test AUC and average precision across the 480 complex-valued configurations. Image-domain and Fourier-domain configurations are distinguished by marker style; dashed reference lines denote the fixed real magnitude baseline in AUC and average precision.